

ARTFUL DINING

We love the sophisticated midnight mood that interior design duo Sara Thompson and Lindy Clarke created for this beautiful Belfast renovation. “We wanted the kitchen to feel modern, but still in keeping with the classic elegance of the house,” says Sara, “so opted for a dark navy scheme set against fresh white panelling and architraving.” The soft grey terrazzo floor tiles, textured linen-effect Tobago Weave wallpaper and units painted in Railings by Farrow & Ball combine to create a look that is timeless, yet contemporary. But the star of the show has to be the painting that the pair cleverly commissioned from Irish artist Paloma King to perfectly complement the striking scheme. LINE OF BEAUTY Cooking doesn't get much more streamlined and seamless than this. With the launch of its new Platinum Line, De Dietrich are bringing induction technology to new levels. The Zoneless Induction hob, pictured, allows you to switch between separately controlled induction zones or one flexible zoneless setting, ideal if you're using an oversized paella pan or fish kettle. While the Japanese-inspired Teppanyaki grill next to it can reach a whopping 270°C, enabling food to be grilled directly on the searing surface without the need for oil, sealing in extra flavour with less fat. Winner all round. dedietrich.co.uk

WONDER WALL
Add wow-factor with these beautifully crafted tiles from Italian maestros Marca Corona 1741. Part of their brand new 4D range, these pillow-like porcelain beauties will add embossed elegance to any room. E063 tiles, €39 per square metre. halotiles.ie

BLUE APRON

Made from 100% Irish linen, these Short Café Aprons from Kathryn Davey's studio are so lovely, we're certain we'd bake more if we had one. Plus, there's pockets, €52. kathryndavey.com
