

ALL NATURAL

Make texture the star with raw finishes and earthy tones.

Wooden multi-shelf, €425, Lamb

Hasami mug natural, £26, Tea + Kate

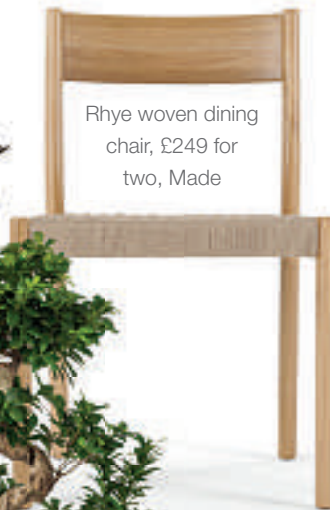

Muuto Ambit pendant, €329, Finnish Design Shop

Round teak board, €35, Industry & Co

Washed linen duvet set, €69.99, H&M

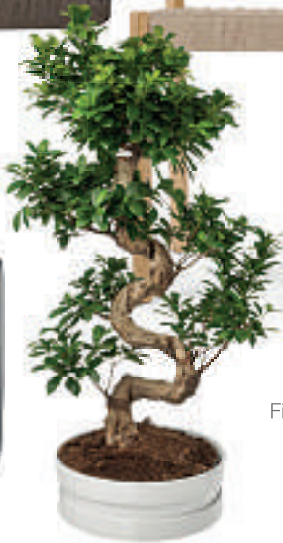

Rhye woven dining chair, £249 for two, Made

Terracotta clay tagine, £28, David Mellor

Osaka black leather sofa, €3,532, BoConcept

Ficus Microcarpa Ginseng potted plant, €79, Ikea

MIXING IT UP

Sara Thompson of Thompson Clarke Interiors says that tiles are a great way to introduce colour and bridge the relationship between indoor and outdoor spaces. She notes that dark teal tones and dark greens also “really complement natural building materials such as wood and concrete”.

This design uses several different tiles, and Sara advises anyone considering something similar to consult a designer. “They can draw up renders to show the finished effect in advance.” If, however, you want to attempt it yourself, her advice is to make sure you calculate the exact quantity of tile you need. “Tile consistency can vary according to batch, so making sure you have enough to do the job, without over-ordering, is key.” thompsonclarke.com

COMPILED BY MARLENE WESSELS

KEY SURFACES

FROM LEFT Casamance Floresta Acier wallpaper, €105 per roll, Étoffe.com. Magma sea blue tiles, €0.48 per tile, Best Tile. Cabbage White No. 269 in Estate Emulsion, €89 for 2.5 litres, Farrow & Ball.

